

Syllabus for
TRNS 499 Senior Paper/Project
3 Credit hours
Fall 2025

I. COURSE DESCRIPTION

A designed research/writing project for seniors studying under the personal guidance of a professor involving specialized research in the field of translation or interpreting.

Prerequisite: Senior standing or departmental approval

Lab fee: None

II. STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES FOR THIS COURSE

Upon successful completion of this course, through research and sessions with the assigned senior paper advisor, the student will be able to do the following:

- A. Prepare a bibliography of the major material written on the student's chosen subject.
- B. Demonstrate an ability to do research, analyze and synthesize information, and evaluate possible strategies for completing the project.
- C. Demonstrate an understanding of major translation theories and approaches used when translating or interpreting.
- D. Identify and employ effective strategies for dealing with translation/interpreting problems.
- E. Explain the decision-making process in translation or interpreting.

III. ASSOCIATED PROGRAMS

This course meets degree completion requirements for the Translation and Interpreting program.

- A. Outcome 3 – Student demonstrates awareness, sensitivity, and respect for the history, beliefs, social forms, language, and traits of different ethnic, religious, and social groups.
- B. Outcome 4 – Student is able to think critically, analyze source and target language linguistic structures, apply translation theory, synthesize information and evaluate information critically.
- C. Outcome 5 – Student is able to analyze source and target language linguistic structures, understand various translation theories and determine an effective translation approach.

IV. UNIVERSITY OUTCOMES

This course aligns with the following University Outcomes as indicated on the last page.

- A. Intellectual Pursuit

B. Global Engagement

VI. POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

A. University Policies and Procedures

1. Students taking a late exam because of an unauthorized absence are charged a late exam fee.
2. Students and faculty at Oral Roberts University must adhere to all laws addressing the ethical use of others' materials, whether it is in the form of print, electronic, video, multimedia, or computer software. Plagiarism and other forms of cheating involve both lying and stealing and are violations of ORU's Honor Code: "I will not cheat or plagiarize; I will do my own academic work and will not inappropriately collaborate with other students on assignments." Plagiarism is usually defined as copying someone else's ideas, words, or sentence structure and submitting them as one's own. Other forms of academic dishonesty include (but are not limited to) the following:
 - a. Submitting another's work as one's own or colluding with someone else and submitting that work as though it were his or hers;
 - b. Failing to meet group assignment or project requirements while claiming to have done so;
 - c. Failing to cite sources used in a paper;
 - d. Creating results for experiments, observations, interviews, or projects that were not done;
 - e. Receiving or giving unauthorized help on assignments.By submitting an assignment in any form, the student gives permission for the assignment to be checked for plagiarism, either by submitting the work for electronic verification or by other means. Penalties for any of the above infractions may result in disciplinary action including failing the assignment or failing the course or expulsion from the University, as determined by department and University guidelines.
3. Final exams cannot be given before their scheduled times. Students need to check the final exam schedule before planning return flights or other events at the end of the semester.
4. Students are to be in compliance with university, school, and departmental policies regarding Whole Person Assessment requirements. Students should consult the Whole Person Assessment handbooks for requirements regarding general education and the students' majors.
 - a. The penalty for not submitting electronically or for incorrectly submitting an artifact is a zero for that assignment.
 - b. By submitting an assignment, the student gives permission for the assignment to be assessed electronically.

B. Department Policies and Procedures

1. Class Assignments

- a. Students need to come to class with the appropriate textbooks, course materials, and other supplies as designated by the professor.
- b. Professors may refuse to accept an assignment if it has inappropriate content, does not meet the assignment's criteria (e.g., not typed, incorrectly documented), is incomplete, is suspected of plagiarism, or is turned in too late.

2. Tardies—Tardies are an inconvenience to the other class members and the professor, and they prevent the late student from obtaining maximum value from the class. Therefore, excessive tardies may adversely affect the semester grade. It is to the student's advantage to make sure that the professor is informed immediately following the close of the class that the student was tardy and not absent. It is not the professor's responsibility to stop the class to mark the tardy; the student is the one responsible for conveying that information immediately following that class, not at a later time.

3. Late Work

- a. The student is responsible for obtaining class assignments and material covered during an absence, and all work is expected to be completed as scheduled. Late work may result in a lower grade. An absence is not an excuse for turning in late work or for being unprepared with assignments for the class following the absence. Computer or printer malfunction does not constitute an excuse for late work; students should have their work prepared in time to ensure that they can get it proofread, edited, and printed prior to the instructor's due date. These responsibilities assist the student in professional development.
- b. Assignments missed because of administratively excused absences are accepted with no penalty. Generally, assignments missed from an excused absence, such as sickness or family crises, can be made up and the instructor should be notified as soon as possible to reach an agreement on due dates and possible penalties. Each instructor has his or her own late-work policy that is given to students at the beginning of a course, so a teacher may decide that work missed because of an unexcused absence cannot be made up. Instructors use their own judgment in accepting late work resulting from all other absences. In cases where absences can be anticipated, such as for non-University sponsored mission trips, the work should normally be submitted prior to the absence.

4. Attendance

- a. Excused and Unexcused Absences—Class attendance is mandatory, but because unavoidable circumstances can prevent perfect attendance, each student is allowed to miss class the number of times per week a class meets. This allowance is intended for illness, personal business, and emergency. Work missed because of an excused absence (e.g., illness, family emergency) can be made up; however, it is up to the teacher's discretion whether or not to accept work missed due to an unexcused absence (e.g., oversleeping, skipping class). If a student exceeds this number of absences, the student may lose points due to late work or for excessive absences, which may affect the semester grade. Extended illnesses are handled on an individual basis and require verification from a doctor.

- b. Administratively Excused Absences—Only absences that are required by approved University activities are given administrative excuses. Students who must miss class for University-sponsored activities must follow these procedures:
 - (1) Inform the professor before the event and make arrangement for the work to be submitted prior to the absence or at a mutually agreed upon deadline.
 - (2) Present an administrative excuse form with appropriate signatures when he or she returns to class. Doctors' or nurses' notes, or letters from groups sponsoring mission trips or activities do not qualify a student for an administratively excused absence.
 - (3) Obtain information covered during an absence. All work must be completed as scheduled.
 - (4) Not commit to class presentation (oral reports, speeches, group presentations, etc.) on a date that the student will be gone. Makeup work is not permitted if the student voluntarily committed to a performance on the date of an administratively excused absence.

- 5. Plagiarism—Students attending Oral Roberts University are required to do their own academic work and must not inappropriately collaborate with other students on assignments.

- a. Students must document all sources and ideas that are not their own original information by following correct MLA (Modern Language Association) documentation procedures. Failure to do this produces a plagiarized paper, which results in an F for the paper. Flagrant cheating results in an F for the course.
- b. Students may be asked to submit their assignments to the D2L dropbox, which provides plagiarism detection via Turnitin.

- 6. Incompletes—As stated in the University catalog, incompletes are granted only for "good cause," such as extended hospitalization, long-term illness, or a death in the family. Students must petition for an incomplete using the form available at petitions.oru.edu. Very few incompletes are granted.

- 7. Whole Person Assessment—If this course requires a WPA assignment, it is listed in the next section ("Course Policies and Procedures"). Students need to comply as indicated in this syllabus and/or by the instructor.

C. Course Policies and Procedures

1. Evaluation Procedures

- a. The grade for the course is based on the final senior project, various assignments leading up to the final project, and on meeting the deadlines throughout the semester. Points earned for each of these are accumulated for the semester

- b. Senior projects not completed by required deadlines are assessed a one-letter grade penalty. This includes senior projects being defended.
 - d. Senior projects are subject to review by the department chair. If the student is eligible to graduate with honors, the project must be defended.
 - e. WPA. If a student is required to submit a WPA assignment and fails to submit it or submits it incorrectly, 10% is deducted from his or her final semester grade.
 - f. The grading scale for the accumulated points is as follows:
A=90-100% B=80-89% C=70-79% D=60-69%
- 2. Class Assignments
 - a. Because of the quantity of the material for this course is significant, students need to keep up with assignments in order to be adequately prepared for class discussions and activities.
 - b. Students need to come to class and mentoring sessions with the appropriate materials.
 - c. Students need to consult the D2L for information regarding assignments.
- 3. Whole Person Assessment Requirements
 - a. This course addresses the School of Liberal Arts Translation/Interpreting program outcome #6: Student is able analyze source and target language linguistic structures, understand various translation theories, and determine and effective translation approach.
 - b. Students must upload this project to the dropbox folder on D2L corresponding to their program.
 - c. Artifacts not submitted electronically or incorrectly submitted receive a zero for that assignment.
- 4. Faculty Contact
 - a. Students need to keep in contact with the professor, especially if they are absent or if some problem arises.
 - b. Office hours and contact information are provided on the professor's door and on the course's D2L site.
- 5. Other Policies and/or Procedures
 - a. At the beginning of the semester, the student and the professor create a calendar, indicating deadlines for completion of all work.
 - b. The complete Senior Paper should be a minimum of 25 pages in length, not including the Works Cited, and should follow MLA guidelines. This paper is subject to review by faculty members of the School of Liberal Arts.
 - c. The student binds the final draft of the senior paper and provides a copy to the School of Liberal Arts.

VII. COURSE CALENDAR

Week 1	Presentation of senior project process and expectations
Week 2	Submission of proposed project topic
Week 3-10	Individual weekly meetings to discuss the progress being made on the project
